Neurology[®] received 2,103 new and 630 revised manuscripts (including about 47 new and 16 revised full-length articles per week) during the 6-month period from April 1, 2007, through September 30, 2007. A total of 2,878 reviews were received during this period. Reviewers continue to return reviewed papers within 14 days, resulting in a shorter first decision period than ever reported in this Acknowledgment; the average time from submission to first decision for papers chosen for review was 27 days compared to 45 days in this same period during 2006. The pace of submissions continues to increase, and we are able to accept only about 13% of full-length papers and 11% of Clinical/Scientific Notes for publication. We thank you for assisting us in our decisions by sending specific comments in your reviews regarding uniqueness of study populations, novel methods, studies that are especially educational, or new strategies for diagnosing and treating neurologic disease.

Neurology and the Editors cannot adequately convey our gratitude for your dedication to the Journal. We rely on your opinions in making decisions about which articles will most benefit authors and readers of Neurology and improve patient care. We have looked for ways to express our thanks to reviewers. On October 25, we launched our program to grant an hour of CME credit, if requested, for each manuscript you review for the Journal (maximum of 15 credits per year as determined by ACCME). The following criteria will determine whether credit will be granted: "it should be evident that the reviewer has read and understood the content of the manuscript, accompanying figures and tables, supplementary material to be published on the Web site, and references. To receive credit, the reviewer must make comments to the editor that aid him/her in making an informed decision regarding publication of the manuscript and make substantive suggestions to the author."

The reviewers listed below with one asterisk have reviewed 5 or more papers. Two asterisks indicate that the reviewer has reviewed 10 or more manuscripts. This list includes those reviewers who returned a review or reviews of initial submissions (re-reviews of the same manuscript are not included) between April 1, 2007, and September 30, 2007.
