From April 1, 2013, through September 30, 2013, Neurology[®] received 2,504 new and 601 revised manuscripts (compared to 2,341 new and 650 revised manuscripts during this same period in 2012). During this interval, 4,408 peer reviews were received (compared to 4,134 during the same period in 2012). Average time from submission to first decision for papers chosen for review was 36 days. Space limitations in the journal allow us to accept only a minority of submitted papers, and decisions regarding which articles we believe will most benefit our authors and readers, as well as improve patient care, are difficult. Your specific comments regarding the uniqueness of study populations, novel methods, studies that are especially educational, or new strategies for diagnosing and treating neurologic disease are most helpful and highly appreciated. Thank you for your cooperation in providing quick turnarounds of reviews.

We especially appreciate the constructive feedback provided by reviewers of manuscripts submitted for the Resident & Fellow Section of Neurology. Reviewers for manuscripts in this section are immensely helpful to junior authors in improving their clinical and scientific writing abilities.

For guidance in reviewing, see the Information for Reviewers (IFR) link on the Neurology Web site (www.neurology.org). Click on this link for information on expectations of reviewers regarding confidentiality, timeliness, and reviewer conflicts of interest. The IFR also provides instructions for formatting the comments to editors and authors in order to make communication with authors most effective.

Please send an e-mail message to journal@neurology.org if you would like to do more reviews or if you have never reviewed for the journal but are interested in doing so. Include a description of your credentials and expertise in the areas in which you are qualified to review.

The reviewers listed below with 1 asterisk have reviewed 5 or more papers. Two asterisks indicate that the reviewer has reviewed 10 or more manuscripts. This list includes those reviewers who returned a review or reviews of initial submissions (re-reviews of the same manuscript are not included) between April 1, 2013, and September 30, 2013.
