Neurology® 2019;92:3-12. doi:10.1212/WNL.0000000000006679

Neurology® manuscript submissions continue to increase. The journal received 2,673 new and 681 revised manuscripts between April 1, 2018, and September 30, 2018 (compared to 2,649 new and 629 revised manuscripts during the same period in 2017). We received 4,600 peer reviews (compared to 4,566 during the same period in 2017) evaluating these papers. You as reviewers play a crucial role in enhancing the quality of what we publish.

We are excited that we now have a new avenue to give you more credit for this valuable work you do and demonstrate your influence in your research field. We have integrated an automated process in our manuscript tracking system to report your review instantly to the Publons website. When you submit your review, you will be asked to indicate whether you would like your review added to your profile in Publons. If you have a Publons account, your account will be updated; if not, Publons will invite you to set up a profile, to which the review will be added, along with former reviews you would like to upload. Publons is a free service for academics that lists the peer reviews they have done for multiple journals. Only the reviewer name and journal title are published, so that reviewers for particular articles remain confidential.

Only a minority of submitted and reviewed manuscripts can be published. Decisions regarding which articles we believe will most benefit readers and improve patient care are often difficult. Your comments regarding uniqueness of study populations, novel methods, studies that are especially educational, or new strategies for diagnosing and treating neurologic disease are immensely helpful. We thank you for your cooperation in returning reviews within a timely manner despite your many other obligations.

We sincerely appreciate the constructive feedback by reviewers of manuscripts submitted to the Resident & Fellow Section of Neurology. Your comments are extremely helpful to junior authors striving to improve their clinical and scientific writing abilities.

Please follow the guidelines for reviewing papers accessed by selecting the Information for Reviewers (IFR) link at n.neurology.org/submit/submitreview. The IFR provides information on expectations of reviewers regarding confidentiality, timeliness, and reviewer conflicts of interest. It also provides instructions for formatting the comments to editors and authors to enable the most effective communication with authors.

Please email journal@neurology.org if you would like to do more reviews or if you have never reviewed for the journal but are interested in doing so. Include a description of your credentials and expertise in the areas in which you are qualified to review.

The reviewers listed below with one asterisk have reviewed 5 or more papers. Two asterisks indicate that the reviewer has reviewed 10 or more manuscripts. This list includes those reviewers who returned a review or reviews of initial submissions (re-reviews of the same manuscript are not included) between April 1, 2018, and September 30, 2018.
