Neurology® 2019;93:3-12. doi:10.1212/WNL.00000000000007723

With gratitude, we take an opportunity twice a year to thank those who have reviewed papers for Neurology®. We cannot adequately convey our appreciation for your dedication to the journal by simply listing the names of the peer reviewers who ensure the quality of the papers we publish. Authors benefit greatly by receiving your feedback on their work and peer review continues to be an essential mechanism for assessing quality of research and conferring credibility to the content we publish.

As happens each year, the number of submissions to the journal steadily increased over the prior year. During the 6-month interval from October 1, 2018, through March 31, 2019, Neurology received 2,744 new and 651 revised manuscripts. We received 4,694 peer reviews (compared to 3,229 during the same period in 2017–2018) for these papers. We are limited in the number of pages we can publish and can accept only a minority of submitted manuscripts; the decision process is difficult as we must select those articles we believe will most benefit readers and improve patient care. Specific comments you can offer regarding uniqueness of study populations, novel methods, studies that are especially educational, or new strategies for diagnosing and treating neurologic disease make these editorial decisions easier. Feedback for authors of manuscripts submitted to the Resident & Fellow Section of Neurology is especially useful to junior authors in improving their clinical and scientific writing abilities.

For guidance in reviewing, see the Information for Reviewers (IFR) link at n.neurology.org/submit/submitreview. Click on this link for information on expectations of reviewers regarding confidentiality, timeliness, and reviewer conflicts of interest. The IFR also provides instructions for formatting the comments to editors and authors in order to make communication with authors most effective.

Please send an email to journal@neurology.org if you would like to do more reviews or if you have never reviewed for the journal but are interested in doing so. Please include a description of your credentials and expertise in the areas in which you are qualified to review.

The reviewers listed below with one asterisk have reviewed 5 or more papers between October 1, 2018, and March 31, 2019. Two asterisks indicate that the reviewer has reviewed 10 or more manuscripts during this period. This list includes those reviewers who returned a review or reviews of initial submissions (re-reviews of the same manuscript are not included).
