Neurology® 2021;96:1-9. doi:10.1212/WNL.0000000000011204

Neurology® manuscript submissions continue to increase every year; mid-2020 saw a large influx of manuscripts related to complications of coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19), many of which went through an expedited peer-review process. The journal received 4301 new and 691 revised manuscripts between April 1, 2020, and September 30, 2020 (compared to 3336 new and 597 revised manuscripts during the same period in 2019). We received 7158 peer reviews (compared to 4455 during the same period in 2019) evaluating these papers.

Only a minority of submitted manuscripts can be published. Decisions regarding which articles will most benefit readers and improve patient care are often difficult. Your comments regarding uniqueness of study populations, novel methods, studies that are especially educational, or new strategies for diagnosing and treating neurologic disease are immensely helpful. We are grateful for your cooperation in returning reviews within a timely manner despite your many other obligations. The benefit to authors and the journal from your feedback is extremely valuable; peer review is an essential mechanism for assessing quality of research and conferring credibility to the content we publish.

We also appreciate the constructive feedback by reviewers of manuscripts submitted to the Resident & Fellow Section of Neurology. Your comments are highly constructive to junior authors striving to improve their clinical and scientific writing abilities.

Please follow the guidelines for reviewing papers accessed by selecting the Information for Reviewers (IFR) link at n.neurology.org/submit/submitreview. The IFR provides information on expectations of reviewers regarding confidentiality, timeliness, and reviewer conflicts of interest. It also provides instructions for formatting the comments to editors and authors to enable the most effective communication with authors.

Please email journal@neurology.org if you would like to do more reviews or if you have never reviewed for the journal but are interested in doing so. Include a description of your credentials and expertise in the areas in which you are qualified to review.

The reviewers listed below with 1 asterisk have reviewed 5 or more papers between April 1, 2020, and September 30, 2020. Two asterisks indicate that the reviewer has reviewed 10 or more manuscripts during the same period. This list includes those reviewers who returned a review or reviews of initial submissions (re-reviews of the same manuscript are not included).
