Neurology® 2022;98:3-11. doi:10.1212/WNL.0000000000013044

The editors and editorial team of Neurology® express our thanks to the dedicated peer reviewers who have contributed time and expertise over the past 6 months. Decisions about which papers to publish are informed by their evaluation of the novelty, accuracy, interpretation, and implications of research questions, methods, and results. The high quality and success of this journal owe much to their continuing dedication.

In the 6-month interval from April 1 through September 30, 2021, Neurology received 2,946 new and 650 revised manuscripts, and the reviewers listed in this article completed 5,379 reviews. For comparison, the figures for the same period in 2019 were 2,718 new manuscripts, 597 revised manuscripts, and 4,454 reviews. Nevertheless, the time that reviewers took to complete their work decreased in 2021, down to 20.5 days compared to 22 days in 2020.

This year we are also instituting an acknowledgement of contributors to the digital podcasts. The Neurology® podcast, one of the first podcasts in medical education, was founded in 2007 by Ted Burns, MD, and has grown to reach an average of 15,865 weekly downloads in 2021. In 2019, the Neurology Minute® was launched in response to the evolving nature of broadcast audio, to provide clinically relevant neurology news in 1–2 minutes of concise audio briefing. Thanks to the contributions of Editor Stacey Clardy, MD, PhD, FAAN, Deputy Editor Jeff Ratliff, MD, and the interviewer producers of the Podcast team, our podcasts provide unique insights that affect clinical practice and patient care in an engaging and convenient format.

If you would like to contribute more reviews, or if you have never reviewed for the journal but are interested in doing so, please send an email to journal@neurology.org. For guidance in reviewing, see the Information for Reviewers (IFR) link at n.neurology.org/submit/submitreview. Click on this link for information on expectations of reviewers regarding confidentiality, timeliness, and reviewer conflicts of interest. The IFR also provides instructions for formatting the comments to editors and authors to make communication with authors most effective.

The reviewers listed below with 1 asterisk have reviewed 5 or more papers between April 1 and September 30, 2021. Two asterisks indicate that the reviewer has reviewed 10 or more manuscripts during this period. This list includes those reviewers who returned a review or reviews of initial submissions (re-reviews of the same manuscript are not included).
