Associate Editors

Neurology® received 1,945 new and 949 revised manuscripts (including about 45 new and 24 revised full-length articles per week) from October 1, 2006, through March 31, 2007, the 6-month period that this acknowledgment includes. Neurology obtained 4,748 reviews from this period. Through 2006, reviewers were asked to complete the review in 18 days and reviews were returned in an average of 10 days, with 65% of reviews being on time. In an effort to reduce turnaround time in 2007, we now ask that reviewers return their comments within 12 days. They have responded by submitting reviews in an average of 7 days, with 71% being returned on time.

We received over 4,000 new manuscripts in the year 2006 and the pace of submissions is increasing. To be able to publish manuscripts in a timely manner, it is necessary for us to increase the scientific rigor of our reviews and select only superb papers for publication. In your future reviews, we ask you to assist us by being direct and specific in your comments. If you believe a paper is important, please convince us that it should be in the literature and specifically in Neurology (e.g., because of the unique study population, novel methods, teaching ‘pearls,’ or new diagnostic or treatment strategies).

Neurology and the Editors would like to express our sincere gratitude to our reviewers. We value your opinions and appreciate your dedication to contribute to clinical science in order to benefit authors and readers of Neurology, and ultimately to improve patient care. We are especially grateful to those reviewers who review 5, 10, or 20 or more papers a year. You have been generous with your time and talents. This is particularly remarkable given the many demands on your time. Each of us are asked to do more with less administrative support and with seemingly no regard for the “work-life balance” that we hear about. Many of you tell us that, despite these pressures, you enjoy reviewing for the journal. For this we are grateful. Superb, timely, fair reviews are essential for the journal to meet its mission. Thank you, thank you.

The reviewers listed below with one asterisk have reviewed 5 or more papers. Two asterisks indicate that the reviewer has reviewed 10 or more manuscripts. This list includes those reviewers who returned a review or reviews of initial submissions (re-reviews of the same manuscript are not included) between October 1, 2006, and March 31, 2007.
