Neurology® 2022;99:3-10. doi:10.1212/WNL.0000000000200870

It is with great appreciation that the editors and editorial team of Neurology® wish to acknowledge all the dedicated peer reviewers whose time and expertise over the past 6 months have informed our publication decisions. Your evaluations of the novelty, accuracy, interpretation, and implications of research questions, methods, and results of submitted manuscripts contribute to the continued success and high quality of this journal and help authors and colleagues improve their manuscripts, whether they are published in Neurology or elsewhere. Thank you!

In the 6-month interval from October 1, 2021, through March 31, 2022, Neurology received 2,728 new and 758 revised manuscripts and the reviewers listed in this article completed 4,118 reviews. For comparison, the figures for the same period ending in 2021 were 2,946 new and 650 revised manuscripts, with 5,379 completed reviews. The average time for reviewers to complete their work remained steady, at 21 days.

We are also pleased to acknowledge the contributors to our podcasts. The Neurology Podcast was founded in 2007 by Ted Burns, MD, as one of the first podcasts in medical education. Between October 1, 2021, and March 31, 2022, it was downloaded 504,497 times. The Neurology Minute Daily Briefing, launched in 2019 to provide clinically relevant neurology news in a couple of minutes, has averaged 3,720 downloads per day in the same period. Thanks to the contributions of Editor Stacey Clardy, MD, PhD, FAAN, Deputy Editor Jeff Ratliff, MD, and our team of interviewers and producers, our podcasts provide content that affects clinical practice and neurologic education in an engaging and convenient format.
